Since we have only been in the business 4 years we grew accustomed to having to pay higher fees from other repair companies as some form of initiation, or having to "pay our dues". After paying more than our dues, plus the cost for shipping and handling, I Googled moonwalk repairs and stumbled across "Sturdy Stitches". Their rates are reasonable, their customer service and turn-around time is second to none. I have several tents that Sturdy Stitches will be cleaning and repairing during the off season.
